

Christelle is Lebanese/Italian, she speaks 4 languages and hope to learn more. She is a clinical psychologist/psychotherapist but she is currently doing her PhD in cognitive psychology. Her thesis is on the engagement factors linked to the use of a computerized cognitive training software by people over the age of 65 years old (with or without cognitive impairments) she also teach part time in the department of psychology at UGA.

Her hobbies are reading, learning/discovering new things, board games and dancing. A quote that would best describe her state of mind would be :

"Growth happens outside of your comfort zone"